President's Message

By Nick Cipriano

Well, here we are on the cusp of the third month of the New Year. I don't know about you, but the first few months of the year are challenging months for me. Making winter seem particularly bleak are the cold days, the long nights and the Corvette sitting idle, pitifully tethered to a battery tender in the garage.

Looking at the bright side, however, we soon will be setting the clocks back to where they belong. As an aside, I never understood or agreed with tampering with clocks to shorten the afternoon. That missing hour of daylight around dinner time just makes me more depressed. But anyway, that's over soon. The days get longer, the air gets warmer and the car people start sniffing around the garage getting that "feel good" sensation that only car people can explain. The anticipation of my Corvette's return to the open road revives the Christmas morning joy of my childhood.

Once the weather turns, my mind goes into "full car mode." What do I do first? I start thumbing through Corvette magazines looking for ideas to make my car look better. My wife knows my pre-spring rituals, and she can tell spring is around the corner when she sees me poring over magazines and packages start appearing at the front door. Hey, some guys buy fishing rods, I buy car stuff. Another important harbinger of spring is the outdoor car show. I truly cannot wait for the first car show, so I scour the Internet trying to find the first show of spring. Of course, our cruise nights start soon so check the website or better yet, come to the General Membership meeting on March 14, and you can get all the details first hand.

We just closed our February Board meeting, and I must say that we accomplished a great deal. Among other things, the Board approved the purchase of a new 6 x 12 foot trailer for Club-related events. The trailer is a vast improvement over the unmovable, dilapidated 40 foot trailer that the Club currently owns (and that Jeff Hey very generously permits to be parked on his property). The new one will be black (see photo next page) and will arrive in time for the Cavalcade Show in June. I'm really excited about that. I extend my endless gratitude to Cavalcade Chairman Steve Fisher and tireless volunteer Henry Wiekel for their work on this matter and to the Board for supporting the Cavalcade Committee's recommendation. It is something that we really needed.

HELP WANTED

Volunteer sought for CCDV Activities leadership role. This is a very important position within the Club and personally fulfilling role. All interested parties should contact Nick Cipriano by telephone or email.

"We are in desperate need of someone to step up and take charge of the Classic Car Show that will run concurrently with the Corvette Show at the Cavalcade. This is an exciting event for someone who enjoys the muscle cars, old classics etc.

The Chairman will have full control to structure the show as he or she wishes and can be assured of plenty of help from the other members who are working on the Cavalcade.

Membership longevity is not a pre-requisite to volunteering. Anyone interested in accepting this role—even a brand new member—is welcome to do so. Interested members should contact me and I will be glad to go over things with you."

New Club Trailer!

We are also making changes to the Gas Cap, re-tooling it and moving it to a new level. Coming soon will be the Club's own Facebook and Twitter Page. Many thanks to Dan Coughlin for these needed changes.

Before I close this piece, my punch list includes one more item: We are in desperate need of someone to step up and take charge of the Classic Car Show that will run concurrently with the Corvette Show at the Cavalcade. This is an exciting event for someone who enjoys the muscle cars, old classics etc. The Chairman will have full control to structure the show as he or she wishes and can be assured of plenty of help from the other members who are working on the Cavalcade. Membership longevity is not a pre-requisite to volunteering. Anyone interested in accepting this role—even a brand new member—is welcome to do so. Interested members should contact me and I will be glad to go over things with you.

Thank you and have a great March.

Tech Tip

Potential Danger at the Pump

For those of you who heard Steve Fisher speak about the importance of using the proper Gasoline in your Corvette to avoid damage to your engine and fuel system there is a new danger on the horizon. Currently the government requires the blending of ethanol in gas of about 10%. The push is on to increase this to 15% which has been found to be harmful to gasoline engines, especially in marine applications and small engines used on lawn equipment. It is also not recommended for automobiles built and sold prior to 2012. This 15% blend adversely affects rubber parts and gaskets. Its use in these suplications may void warranties. Use of the blend also cause phase separation in the gas tank where the ethanol settles to the bottom of the gas tank. Additionally it is up to three octanes lower than listed on the pump. This reduces mileage and affects engine wear and efficiency. Currently this 15% blend is sold primarily in the mid-west but who knows when it will show up in the east. Reportedly the increased use of corn to make ethanol is a factor in the increased cost of food.

For more on this go to <http://video.foxbusiness.com/v/2000862210001/is-your-car-at-risk-from-e15-ethanol-blend/> and watch the video.

Your Tech tip of the month.

FROM A DIFFERENT VIEW

By Joel Fellman

Hello, let me introduce myself. My name is Shark Fellman. I started life as a Stingray (one of the last of my name-sake) when I departed the production line in St. Louis, Missouri on December 16th, 1975. In early 1976, some unknown 18-wheeler transported me all the way to Moore Chevrolet on Fayette St. in Conshohocken, PA. I lived inside their showroom window for quite some time. I can recall seeing this guy go by in his hopped up black '72 Cuda 340 for what seemed like months. His ride was pretty sharp, but it was no competition for me. With my bright yellow exterior (one of only 3,389) and dark brown deluxe leather interior, I knew he was interested in me. I could see him staring at me whenever he passed by and I know he always dreamed of owning a Corvette! (Doesn't everyone?)

Finally, in May he got the courage to stop in and take a closer look. I knew he was hooked! How could he resist my classic design? My sleek & curvaceous body. But before I knew it, he was gone. Fortunately, on May 29th, he stopped back & signed some papers to be my owner. Then, on June 7th he stopped back again and this time he's driving me to my new home in northeast Philly. I wasn't real happy then because this guy always left me outside. For the first time I was subjected to the elements and all kinds of nasty weather. However, he always invited this great looking blond chick that he would pick up and drive all over the place. I really liked that!! I think he might have been a photographer because he was always taking my picture. In front of buildings, in front of flowers, in front of statues, even in front of other Vettes. Someone make him stop! I'm getting a complex.

Then, before the summer was over, he joined this gang of motorheads, called the Corvette Club of Delaware Valley. I was the new kid & admit that it took some time before I felt comfortable & started to fit in. But it was worth it! There were these older models around called straight axles and midyears and they ruled the streets! I mean they were fast! I was proud of my heritage & thrilled to be in their company. Even though some of my older siblings were dual quads or Fuelies or had those 427's or 454's under their hoods, I could still stand my ground (at least in the good looks department) and now I had a ton of reasons to get out & strut my stuff. I enjoyed going down the shore or out on some country roads where I could open up & stretch my legs a bit. I even traveled up to Connecticut where he went to school for a while.

Finally he wised up & started to keep me in a garage. Before I realized, 3 years have gone by, I've got 40K on my OD and he's driving me like a madman. I became much happier when he purchased some beater for his everyday transportation so I could live the good life: indoors, always shiny (even my suspension was polished!) and I was just going out on special occasions in nice weather.

When I was around 7 years old, I noticed some new styled Corvettes turning up. I heard they were called C-4's and they challenged some of the world's best sports cars. I understand their ride was a bit harsh (especially with that Z51 option), but I knew they'd eventually work it out. Besides, I was quite familiar with rough rides! Plus I doubt they were any worse than my vintage brethren from the 50's & 60's.

A few years later, the beaters are gone. Has he hit the lottery? He's bought another Corvette and I'm in shock! It's an all black '81 & kinda nasty looking. He must have a great wife to let him own 2 Corvettes! But obviously I'm still his favorite because I'm the one occupying his garage! However, he's driving that '81 every day so I do feel a little jealous. Meanwhile, I'm still enjoying all my favorite outings like racing at Atco, competing at various car shows, participating in parades, going out to Macungie & Carlisle and attending special events like CCDV's Cavalcades, their charity toy runs & my all time favorite, the Hot Dog Runs. I love being in a caravan with dozen's of other Corvettes. It doesn't get any better than that!

Before I know it, I'm 15 years old and I'm sporting a new "classic" tag. But now what's he doing? I'm up on jack stands. Help! He's removing my entire exhaust system & adding these shiny '69 side pipes that he bought from some other CCDV member for $300. And my original rallye wheels are being replaced by these flashy chrome Cragger S/S. I don't know what he's up to, but I like the look and the sound is awesome! Maybe he thinks he's a big shot just because he became president of CCDV? He also joined these NCRS guys who are all about originality - nuts & bolts. In my slightly modified condition, I'm not sure if I'll be accepted. But as usual, I'm up for the task. Then along came this N/E Muscle Car Club. Once again, I wondered if I'm worthy. Am I really a muscle car? I never gave it much thought but I guess I'll do. The members of all these clubs are really great. Their cars are sensational & I'm having the time of my life.

For several years, things were going really swell. Then the bombshell exploded. No one mentioned that he's got a teenage son! Now I'm really in trouble. And he wants to drive me to his prom! Has his dad gone insane? No need to worry though. Fortunately for me, he's a very good kid and all goes well!

More time flies by and I'm 25. I hope he doesn't label me with those "antique" tags. I really don't feel that old. These C-5's I've been seeing all over for a few years are awesome! From what I can tell, they're reminiscent of my cousins from the early days. They're fast as hell & everyone's driving and modifying them instead of hiding or storing them for prosperity. Meanwhile, Mr. Big Shot finishes 2 more years as CCDV's Prez & I got treated to some new fiberglass bumpers. With a lot less wrinkles I'm feeling refreshed! I can't say I'm sorry to see those old rubbery ones go.

Now I'm getting ready to surpass the big 100K & I feel like a million. My daily driver good friend the '81 is long gone, replaced by a front drive beater and for a few years, a Polo Green Metallic '95 Corvette coupe.

I never dreamed that I'd be a part of this family for 36 years but it's been a fantastic relationship & I doubt we'll ever part. He's kept me in tip-top shape & I continue to make him smile every time he enters the garage, especially when he removes my cover and takes me out for a spin.

The even better C6's were the next breed out of Chevrolet and I hear the C7's are on their way! No matter what may come in the future, the fun and enjoyment plus all the great memories and friendships will always be with us.

And who's responsible? ME! His 1976 Corvette Stingray - AKA Shark!

An All Day Adventure

On Sunday May 19th. We will be headed off to the Turbotville Auto Museum in Turbotville, PA(www.turbotvilleautomuseum.com) . The museum holds about 35 cars and tons of memorabilia. After looking around the museum we will be going to see the rest of the collection totaling more than 100 cars housed in a warehouse in Hughesville, a few miles away. All the cars are owned by the same gentleman and we will possibly get the tour by the museum's mechanic. The ride to Turbotville is about 150 miles. We will then stop on our way back for dinner at the Quaker Steak and Lube restaurant near Bloomsburg.

We will leave Zoto's Dinner on RT 309 in Hilltown at 9 A.M. You can come early and eat there or eat before you arrive. The ride will be about 3 hours with one rest stop along the way. We will spend 1 to 2 hours at the museum, and as long as it takes at the warehouse. The total cost of the museum is $10 per person. We will then stop on our way back for dinner at the Quaker Steak and Lube restaurant near Bloomsburg (http://www.thelube.com/Bloomsburg_PA/). This restaurant has a '68 corvette hanging on the wall and a '60 on a rack above the seating area. There are also street rods and motorcycle memorabilia covering every square inch.

UPCOMING EVENT

From our friends at the Allentown Area Corvette Club

The Allentown Area Corvette Club will be holding our 12th Annual Springfest Corvette Show once again at DeSales University, Center Valley, Pa this year. The show date is Sunday May 5th. On behalf of the AACC, we want to thank you and your club for your past participation and invite you to attend our show again this year.

As the Co-Chairs for this event once again in 2013, we plan on making the show EVEN MORE enjoyable for everyone. This year, our special quest will be Paul Koerner, Certified World Class GM Service Technician. Paul will conduct a FREE 1-hour Technical Seminar and answer any of your questions regarding C4/C5/C6 Corvettes. For a nominal Fee, Paul will also individually "TECH YOUR CORVETTE" during the show. (Pre-registration is required)

We will also have Tote Bags and dash plaques available for the first 100 pre-registered cars as well as our usual Tricky Tray auction, 50/50 drawing and door prizes. And once again we will have the winning Corvettes displayed up on the big screen during the trophy award ceremony.

All the details, including directions to Springfest are shown on the attached flyer. Please feel free to make additional copies for your club members or simply direct them to our website at www.allentowncorvetteclub.org . All proceeds from our show will go to various local charities.

Thanks again for your past support and we look forward to seeing you in May.

Sincerely,

Marty & Laura Hegyi

Highlights from the February 21, 2013 Board Meeting

- In connection with the CECF raffle, Jeff Hey, Bob Weiss and Joe Remick went to North Central NJ and placed a deposit on a silver 2005 C-6 Coupe. The sales price of the car is $24,800. The seller discounted the price because the car will be used for a charitable raffle.
- The Board has authorized the expenditure of $3600 to purchase a 6 x 12 foot trailer for Club use. This expenditure is expected to cover the purchase price plus taxes, title and insurance to cover damage to the trailer and its contents when the trailer sits idle. Jeff Hay has generously agreed to allow the Club to store the new trailer on his property after the old one is remove.
- The Board has authorized the expenditure of $150 to audit the Club books.
- Dan Coughlin has agreed to serve as the Editor of the Gas Cap, effective with the March issue. The Board has authorized Dan to set up Facebook and Twitter accounts.
- The Board has authorized the expenditure of $350 for a Club tent and chairs for the 2013 Corvettes at Carlisle.
- On May 19, there will be an all day trip to Turbottville, PA to visit both an auto museum with a 40 car collection and a private collection of 110 cars. The route will include a stop at Quaker Steak and Lube (on Route 80) for lunch.
- The Club picnic is scheduled for August 3 at the home of Edie & Jim Doan in New Hope, PA.
- The Club's 2013 Holiday Party will be held again at the Spring Mill Country Club.
